Harris Kupperman

Praetorian Capital Management

The next feature on our Top 50 Microcap Managers list is Harris Kupperman. After graduating from Tulane University with an undergraduate degree in history, Harris founded and currently operates as Chief Investment Officer of Praetorian Capital Management. Additionally, he went on to become Chairman/CEO of Mongolia Growth Group in 2011, “a Canadian publicly listed real estate company focusing its operations on the rapidly growing economy of Mongolia.” Praetorian Capital is a “global-micro hedge fund” that returned 127.51% and 142.87% net of fees in 2020 and 2021 respectively. We also encourage you give a listen to an interview Harris gave in December, discussing inflationary concerns and the beginning of the recent tech sell-off. You can keep up to date with Harris, an active social media user, on Twitter @hkuppy. This article only reflects publicly available information since no conversation took place with Harris prior to publication.
